Please visit our Student Consumer Information page to find the average time to completion for continuously enrolled students for each credential level offered. This data is available at the average credit load, full-time or at full load. Changing programs, beginning programs at the mid-term start date, taking remedial courses, taking time off from coursework, registering for fewer hours or unsuccessful attempts at course completion will increase the total length of the program and overall cost of education from what is disclosed. Transfer credits awarded toward your program will likely decrease the overall length and cost of education.

Important International Student Disclosure: The Art Institute of Vancouver is a Designated Learning Institution. International students attending The Art Institute of Vancouver under a Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) Study Permit are required to actively pursue and make continuous progress toward completing their programs of study. Study may be undertaken full-time or part-time (defined as either 9 academic credits per term or 36 academic credits in a calendar year for Study Permit students). Study must include at least 1 on-ground (campus-based) course per academic term. Not more than 1 online course or 3 online credits per academic term may be counted toward meeting the continuous progress requirements. Program and course offerings are subject to change and international students may be required to take additional courses to meet the continuous progress requirement. International students should work closely with the International Student Advisor to ensure all requirements of their Study Permits are met.
